THE CONQUEST OF THE POLE

By Dr. FREDERICK A. COOK

[The Cook expedition was equipped at Gloucester, Mass., and was ready to start on July 3, 1907. Dr. Cook and Rudolph Franke were put ashore at Annetopik, Greenland, with amplitudes of stores for the winter made preparations for the polar dash. On Feb. 12, 1908, the main expedition started for the pole with eleven men, 10 dogs and eleven heavily loaded sleds. Going a little north of west, the party on March 15 reached the northern end of Heberg island. Here the expedition divided, six men returning. The rest, twenty-two, went on. On March 15 twenty-five miles were covered, and the next day twenty-one. Then two more of the men returned, leaving only two young Eskimos to accompany Dr. Cook, with two loaded sleds and twenty-six dogs. On March 20 sixteen miles were covered, twenty-nine miles on the 21st, twenty-two the following day and afterward for several days an average of seven or eight. Near the northern edge of Grant Land a great open lead was encountered, which was crossed with some peril on the young ice. Some days later after a severe storm the ice split open under the sleds, and Dr. Cook in his sleeping bag sank into the crevice, being dragged to safety by the young Eskimos. The advance was halted by storms, in one of which the dogs were buried and in another the men themselves. To the west a new land, named Bradley Land by Cook, was sighted, extending from 83 degrees 20 minutes to 83 degrees 51 minutes and close to the hundred and second meridian. Dr. Cook's own account of his dash from Bradley Land to the pole is given below.]

OVER the newly discovered coast lines was written Bradley Land, in honor of John K. Bradley, the benefactor of the expedition. As we passed north of this land there was nothing substantial upon which to fix the eye.

There was at no time a perfectly clear horizon, but the weather was good enough to permit frequent nautical observations.

Thus day after day the marches were forced, the icebergs and positions were recorded, but the adventures were promptly forgotten in the mental blank of the next day's effort. The night of April 7 was made notable by the swing of the sun at midnight. For a number of nights it made grim faces at us in its setting. A teasing mist, drawn as a curtain over the northern sea at midnight, had given curious advantages for celestial stargazing; setting into this haze, we were unable to determine sharply the advent of the midnight sun.

Now the great bulk was drawn out egg shaped, with horizontal lines drawn through it. Again it was pressed into a L-shape with flaring lines, burning behind a curtain of frost; blue at other times, it appeared like a huge vase, and it required very little imagination to see purple and violet flowers.

The change was often like magic, but the last display was invariably a face-distorted faces of men or animals were made to suit our fancy.

We had therefore followed the sun's northward advance from his first peak at midday above the south ice of the polar gateway to its sweep of the northern ice at midnight. From the end of the polar night late in February to the first of the double days and midnight suns we had forced a trail through darkness, blood hardening temperature and over leg breaking irregularities of an unknown world of ice to an area 200 miles from the pole.

Now we had the sun unmistakably at midnight, and his new glory was quite an incentive to our life of shivers. Observations on April 8 placed camp at latitude 86 degrees 36 minutes, longitude 94 degrees 2 minutes. In spite of what seemed like long marches we had advanced only 100 miles in nine days. Much of our hard work was lost in circuitous twinges around troublesome pressure lines and high, irregular fields of very old ice. The drift ice was throwing us to the east with sufficient force to give us some anxiety, but with eyes closed to danger and hardships the double days of fatigue and glitter quickly followed one another.

The temperature, ranging between 36 and 40 degrees below zero F., kept persistently near the freezing point of mercury, and, though the perpetual sun gave light and color to the cheerless wastes, we were not impressed with any appreciable sense of warmth.

Bradley Land Passed—Steam From Frozen Seas—Half the Food Allowance Used—Maddening Effect of Polar Glitter—Despair of Ahwelah, "Beyond Is Impossible" —

Indeed, the sunbeams seemed to make the frost of the air pierce with a more painful sting.

There was a weird play of optics, seemingly most impressive at this time—clouds of steam rose from the frozen seas. In marching over the golden glitter snow sculls the face, while the nose is bleached with frost.

In camp a grip of the knife left painful burns from cold metal. To the frozen finger the water was hot. With wine spirits the fire was lighted, while all delighted the stomach. In dreams heaven was hot, the other place was cold.

All nature was false. We seemed to be hearing the chilled flame of a new hades. In our hard life there was nothing genuinely warm. The congenial appearances were all deception, but death offered only cold comfort. There was no advantage in suicide.

We should have enjoyed this curious experience, but with endless badly discomforts, combined in aching muscles and an overbearing hunger, there could be no real joys from the glories of nature. The pleasure was reserved for a later retrospect.

We now changed our working hours from day to night, beginning usually at 10 and ending at 7. The big marches and prolonged hours of travel with which fortune favored us earlier were no longer possible. Weather conditions were more important in determining the day's run than the hands of the chronometers.

When the storms threatened the start was delayed, and in strong blows the march was shortened, but in one way or another we usually found a few hours in each turn of the dial during which a march could be forced between winds. It mattered little whether we traveled at night or day—all hours and all days were alike to us—for we had no accustomed time of rest, no Sundays, no holiday, no landmarks or mileposts to pass. To advance and expend the energy accumulated during one sleep at the cost of our pound of pemmican was the one sole aim in life.

The observations of April 11 gave latitude 87 degrees 29 minutes, longitude 95 minutes 10 seconds. The pack disturbance of Bradley Land was less and less noted in the northward movement. The fields became heavier, larger and less crevassed.

We had now passed the highest reaches of all our predecessors and had gained the inspiration of the farthest north for ourselves. The time was at hand, however, to consider seriously the necessity of an early return.

Nearly half of the food allowance had been used. In the long marches supplies had been more liberally used than anticipated, and now our dog teams were much reduced in numbers. A hard necessity had forced the cruel law of the survival of the fittest, for the less useful dogs were fed to the steady working survivors. Owing to the food limits and the advancing season we could not prudently continue the outward march a fortnight longer.

We had dragged ourselves 300 miles over the polar sea in twenty-four days, including delays and detours, this gave an average of nearly thirteen miles daily on an air line in our course. It seemed an unknown line of 100 miles before our ambitions could be satisfied. The same average advance which we had made on the pack would take us to the pole in thirteen days. There were food and fuel enough to risk this adventure.

In the diary of the succeeding days' doings there appear numerous tabulations of work and observations. The new cracks in the thickness of the ice were measured. The water was examined for life. Atmospheric, surface water and ice temperatures were taken, the barometer was noted, the cloud formations, weather conditions and ice drifts were tabulated.

I watched daily for possible signs of dangerous failure in strength, for serious disability now meant a fatal termination.

A disabled man could neither continue nor return, but every examination gave another reason to push human endurance to the limit of the strain of every fiber and cell. The hard work which followed, under an occasional burst of burning sunbeams, brought intense thirst.

Forcing the habit of the camel, we managed to take enough water before starting to keep our thirst from the veins for the day's march, but it was difficult to await the melting of the ice at camping time.

In two sittings—evening and morning—each took an average of three quarts of water daily. This included the tea and also the luxury of an occasional soup. There was water about everywhere in heaps, but it was in crystals, and before the thirst could be quenched several ounces of precious fuel, which had been carried thousands of miles, must be used. And still this water, so expensive and so necessary to us, ultimately became the greatest bane to comfort. It escaped through the pores of the skin, saturated the boots, forced a band of ice under the knee and a belt of frost about the waist, while the face was nearly always thickened in a mask of icicles from the breath—a necessary part of our hard lot in life, and we learned to take the torture philosophically.

From the eighty-seventh to the eighty-eighth parallel we passed for two days over old ice without pressure lines or hummocks. There was no discernible line of demarcation for the fields, and it was quite impossible to determine if we were on land or sea ice. The barometer indicated no elevation, but the ice had the hard, waving surface of glacial ice, with only superficial crevasses. The water obtained from this was not salty, but all of the upper surface of the ice of the polar sea makes similar water. The haphazard observations did not seem to indicate a drift, but nevertheless the combined tabulations do not warrant the positive assertion of either land or sea for this area.

The ice gave a cheering prospect. A plain of purple and blue ran in easy undulations to the limits of vision without the usual barriers of uplifted blocks. Over it a direct air line course was possible. Progress, however, was quite as difficult as over the irregular rock. The snow was crusted with large crystals. An increased friction reduced the speed, while the surface, too hard for snowshoes, was also too weak to give a secure footing. The loneliness, the monotony, the hardship of steady, unrelieved travel were now keenly felt.

It is not often that man's horsepower is put to the test as ours was. We were compelled to develop a working energy to the limit of animal capacity. Day after day we had pushed along at the same steady pace over plains of frost and through a mental desert.

As the eye opened at the end of an icy slumber the fire was lighted little by little, the stomach was filled with liquids and solids, mostly cold—enough to last for the day, for there could be no halt or waste of fuel for midday feeding. We next got into harness and paced off the day's pull under the lash of duty. We worked until standing became impossible—longer in light winds, shorter in strong winds, but always until the feet became numb and heavy.

Then came the arduous task of building a snow house. In this the eyes, no longer able to wink, closed, but soon the empty stomach complained, and it was filled up again—not with things that pleased the palate, only hard fuel to feed the inner fires, while the ear sought the soft side of ice to dispel fatigue; no pleasure in mental recreation, nothing to arouse the soul from its icy inclosure.

To eat, to sleep, to press one foot ahead of the other, was our steady vocation, like the horse to the cart, but we had not his advantage of an agreeable climate and a comfortable stable at night.

Words and pictures cannot adequately describe the maddening influence of this sameness of polar glitter, combined with bitter winds, extreme cold and an overworked body. To me there was always the inspiration of anticipation of the outcome of ultimate success, but for my young savage companions it was a torment almost beyond endurance. Their weariness was made evident by a lax use of the whip and an indifferent urging of the dogs. They were, however, brave and faithful to the bitter end, seldom allowing selfish ambitions or uncontrollable passions seriously to interfere with the main effort of the expedition.

On the morning of April 13 a strain of agitating torment reached a breaking point. For days there had been a steady cutting wind from the west, which drove despair to its lowest reaches.

No torment could be worse than that never ceasing rush of icy air. Ahwelah bent over his sled and refused to move.

The dogs turned and looked inquiringly. I walked over and stood by his side. Ahwelah came near and stood motionless, staring blankly at the southern skies. Large tears fell from Ahwelah's eyes and paled a little frost of sadness in the line of his own shadow for several minutes. Not a word was uttered, but I knew that each felt that the time had come to free the fetters of human passions. Slowly Ahwelah said, "Tune sing pa-o-o-ah-tonie-todoria" ("It is well to die—beyond is impossible").

More Band Money

M. S. Beyer reports having obtained signatures for over $480 for the purpose of organizing a band in this city.

This is a large amount, but when it is remembered that an instructor has to be paid and several instruments bought, it will readily be seen that this sum is still insufficient.

A second list is being circulated asking each signer to contribute 50 cents per week toward this cause, which is well worthy of consideration when the boys are to furnish us with music during next summer twice weekly.

A number of the boys intend buying their own instruments and all beginners must pay Mr. Bailey, the instructor, for at least twelve private lessons.

The band begins practice this week and will work diligently for the ultimate success of the undertaking and, without doubt, when they appear before the public they will make a fine showing and render music of harmony, repaying those who have generously contributed with sweet strains of melody.

Twenty-one members will greet our gaze when these energetic gentlemen present themselves to the public.

Native Sons Banquet

Monday evening Sonoma Parlor N. S. G. W. met in I. O. O. F. Hall in an enthusiastic session and a large attendance, due, no doubt, to the fact that 2nd Grand Vice President Lichtenberger, of Los Angeles, was present.

The usual routine of business was transacted and the parlor donated $25 toward the restoration of the Mission. A number of the members thought this amount small, but considering the $100 this parlor gave previously to this cause we feel the boys have shown themselves staunch supporters of the mission, our city and of our state, doing all possible toward their welfare.

Five candidates had the pleasure of riding the goat, which had been fed up for the occasion: Wm. Von Hecht, Albert Entlemann, Jos. Enfield, Philip Bill, Jr., and Alfred Warriner, and we warrant that these gentlemen were more than ready for the banquet, which immediately followed their exertions.

M. C. Cummings as toastmaster displayed his usual tact and ability. Mr. Lichtenberger, when called proved himself an able entertainer and gave the boys many thoughts for reflection. He stated that he was very much interested in the restoration of the mission and felt it his personal duty to present the matter to the Grand Parlor at its next session and try to get a large appropriation to help along the good work. Alfred Jansen and Jap. Valente were in good voice and sang several songs which were enjoyed by all. The boys all proclaim a good time, in fact one of the best they have ever had.

The kickers and croakers have no place in a city with the push and progressiveness of our town. The man who opposes needed public improvements and stands in the way of progress is not a good citizen.

Man, like the fire, is apt to torment women by going out at night.

If a certain city official would try to make up for lost time, what an overworked man he would be.

The reason why women do not propose is supposed to be due to the fact that they want to have the last word.

Men can be found who are willing to go to Africa as missionaries who are not willing to take care of a cross baby for the tired wife for an hour.

Saturday evening I was standing on Napa street, enjoying a good cigar and, incidentally, fighting mosquitoes, ruminating in memory's chamber, seeking bits of bye gone days when suddenly I heard a noise and looking toward Haven's corner I beheld a band of boys and finally realized they were trying to sing—Mind you, I said trying—and after listening to a few attempts I took my leave, fraught with a desire for a more quiet nook. Boys, please practice at home before presenting yourselves to the public.

The knocker's club were greatly shocked when they read in the EXPOSITOR that oil had been found in the foothills near town; it became almost unbearable when they opened the same issue and learned of the sale of the Schocken quarries. Some of our pretty little girls seem quite fond of our cunning little boys, on whose lips the first appearance of what will in the course of time be a mustache, and they are really imperiling the lives of these youths in keeping them out so late evenings. Girls, remember that little boys should go to bed early.

Twix twilight and dark, up near Woodleaf Park, a maiden sat combing her hair, when heated with roaming, all panting and foaming, there came up and squeezed her a big grizzly bear. This broke up old bruin, he let off his wooing, sneaked back to the mountains and hid a whole year. Mum's the word.

Where's the Beer

Edward Lewis, of Oakland, wants to know what Jack London and party did with a case and a half of beer. It seems that London chortled the "Phillis," a boat owned by C. F. Murdock, and when on a tour of inspection of the vessel consumed a case and a half of beer.

Now Lewis owned the beer, and London consumed the beer, and Lewis has set up a hue and cry because he was not in on the deal.

London has answered the "Call of the Wild" in the "Phillis," up the Sacramento river; Lewis is mad and a sailor swears vengeance on London for throwing his clothes overboard. Both await the return of the "Phillis."

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Sporting Notes

The Pittsburg baseball team of National League won four games out of seven from the Detroit team of the American League, thereby retaining the championship of the world. The games were spectacular and attracted the largest crowds in the history of baseball.

Jack Johnson, of Galveston, toyed with Stanley Ketchell, of Michigan, for twelve rounds in the heavy-weight battle held last Saturday in the Mission street arena. In the twelfth Johnson put the rollers under Stanley and the fight was over. The match as predicted, was uneven all the way, Johnson being too strong and clever for his smaller opponent, who swung wildly with both hands until he became exhausted and an easy mark.

The Rugby football played last Saturday on California field between the Stanford and Berkeley freshmen was won by Stanford—Score 5-0. The great defensive work of the Berkeley team prevented a larger score being made, Stanford being the aggressors throughout the game.

The basket ball game played here Saturday evening between the Sonoma High School boys and the Napa High School was won by the Sonoma boys—24 to 17. The game was a good one and shows this year's team can go some. Sonoma had two new players and Napa three.

Quail shooting is good thus far and several hunters have bagged the (1) limit. Ducks continue to fly high.

Bazaar and Entertainment

Mayflower Hall, Glen Ellen, will be a scene of activity, mirth and pathos and good things for the inner man on Friday and Saturday evenings, October 29 and 30. The ladies will conduct a bazaar both evenings.

Friday evening the 29th, Miss Hilda Gilbert, of New York will appear in character sketches. This talented lady was recently a member of Froman's Stock Co. and has appeared in the drawing rooms of the most fashionable people throughout the universe. Upon her return from a successful tour in foreign climes she appeared at the Waldorf in New York and since that time at private houses with the society queens as her patronesses. While with Mrs. Fiske's company she won new honors as "Mrs. Elotest" in "Hedda Guber." In her work as an interpreter and entertainer she runs the gamut of emotions from deep tragedy, to the lightest comedy.

Saturday evening a chicken pie dinner will be served by the ladies and an opportunity given the gentlemen to gorge themselves—which they undoubtedly will.

Admission to Friday's entertainment, 25. Children 15c. Dinner Saturday evening, 35c.

Sad Death by Drowning

The entire village of Glen Ellen was shrouded in grief from the sudden death by drowning last Saturday afternoon of little Mildred Zane, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Zane, of that place.

The little one started to visit her grandmother's home, as was her daily habit and after a short visit with her grandmother, Mrs. Joel Zane, returning home. Saturday afternoon the baby had remained from home longer than usual and her mother, becoming anxious, went to the home of the grandparents to bring her back, only to learn that little Mildred had not been there.

Mrs. Zane at once started a search, herself in the lead. A baby's foot prints in the dust led the party to the creek. A little later the mother's worst fears were confirmed, for the body of the little one was seen floating on the surface of the water. The mother recovered the body, and clasping the dripping form to her breast she ran to the residence of Dr. Creppin, who worked over the child for over two hours, without avail. The little one was a prime favorite with all, and the funeral, which took place on Monday, was largely attended. The little grave was heaped with the floral offerings from thimny friends who sympathize with the bereaved parents.

The Plaintiff, Samuel Morrow, the north 100 feet of Lot 112, also known, numbered and designated upon the official map or plat of the former Pueblo or ex-city of Sonoma, also all of that portion of the strip of land lying between said lot 112 and the west line of Lot 113, designated as First Street East.

The Plaintiff, John Cousins, the north 100 feet of Lot 112, also known, numbered and designated upon the official map or plat of the former Pueblo or ex-city of Sonoma, also all of that portion of the strip of land lying between said lot 112 and the west line of Lot 113, designated as First Street East.

The Plaintiff, the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Sonoma, the north 100 feet of Lot 112, also known, numbered and designated upon the official map or plat of the former Pueblo or ex-city of Sonoma, also all of that portion of the strip of land lying between said lot 112 and the west line of Lot 113, designated as First Street East.

The Plaintiff, all other persons unknown, claiming any right title, estate, lien or interest in the real property described in the complaint adverse to Plaintiff's ownership of said property.

The object of said action is as follows:— 1. To obligate the said Defendants to set forth the nature of their claims in and to said lands. 2. To obtain a decree of said Court whereby all claims of said Defendants, all said singular, in and to said lands, adverse to said Plaintiff's ownership thereof, shall be determined.

3. To obtain a decree of said Court declaring and adjusting that said Plaintiff are the owners in fee simple of said lands, and that said Defendants, all and singular, have no estate in or to said lands, or any part thereof.

4. To have said Defendants, all and singular, by said Court, forever enjoined and declared from asserting any claim, singular or in or to said lands, adverse to said Plaintiff.

5. To obtain an award and allowance by said Court, to said Plaintiff of their costs in said action, and to obtain such other relief as in the premises shall be found to be due.

Given under my hand and seal of said Superior Court in and for the County of Sonoma, State of California, this 21st day of August.

F. L. Watson, Clerk of said Court.

LOCAL ITEMS

School shoes at the Racket Store.

Fall Millinery now on display at G. H. Holz.

Mrs. D. Laveroni is still ill at Green's sanatorium.

Miss Marie Broquet is visiting friends in San Francisco.

Mrs. Pauline McMullin spent Portola week in the metropolis.

The O'Brien ranch north of town has been leased to J. W. Offutt.

Mrs. M. Topete left Wednesday for a visit to Portola in the metropolis.

Frank Sprague was in town Monday shaking hands with old friends.

Misses Gladys and Bernice Small are visiting relatives in the metropolis.

Miss Edith Harvey, of Bloomfield, is visiting friends in El Verano this week.

Mrs. James Cowan and son visited relatives here the fore part of the week.

J. A. Solmonson is making some needed improvements at the High School.

Miss Ellen Trueblood, of the High School faculty, is visiting relatives in Berkeley.

Attorney Robert Poppe transacted legal business in Santa Rosa Monday.

Mrs. T. H. Baines who is ill at the Leix sanitarium, is some better at this writing.

Paul Robin and family enjoyed three days in San Francisco the fore part of the week.

The Bismark, the only second class place in Sonoma Valley, the paradise of California.

Prof. B. H. Painter went to San Francisco Wednesday to attend the Portola carnival.

KODAK—Printing and Developing "done right" at SIMMONS PHARMACY.

Jas. Modini, Neil Trudgen, Jas. Moffet and George Goess are in San Francisco attending Portola.

"Pop" Bridges is out of bed again and can walk by the aid of crutches. He is at his store today.

A bouncing baby boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar MacQuiddy at Walnut Creek last Thursday.

Work on the new stone bridge on Second Street East is progressing rapidly. Contractor Trudgen has a large force of men at work.

Student band boys will meet in Weyl Hall Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. for their first lesson. Prof. Bailey will instruct them.

Fred Leidecker was the lucky winner of the basket of groceries given away by the Metropolitan Stock Company in Union Hall last Friday night.

The high and grammar school's had a three days vacation this week to give the teachers and scholars an opportunity to visit San Francisco and take part in the Portola festivities.

H. H. Turner and wife of Shellville, leave today for Los Angeles, for a three months visit. Mr. Turner has left his farm in competent hands and he and Mrs. Turner intend to enjoy themselves for a few months.

Old "Port" and Queen Vergilia certainly had a good time at the carnival this week. Both he and the Queen presented a pleasing spectacle in the parade on Tuesday, and we think better selections for the parts they enacted could not have been made.

J. Barney will finish grape picking on the Gundlach ranch this week. The picking of grapes on the Dresel place and the Hyde ranch will also be completed in a few days, while the crop on the Tiddy vineyard was completed last week. Mr. Barney now has the contract to harvest the potato crop on the Foster ranch near Lakeville. He will need about 75 hands, including teamsters and potato diggers. Mr. Barney will make his headquarters at the Bismark hotel, where anyone out of work can secure a job at fair wages.

L. Beilstein, who has been employed at the Goldstein vineyards as cooper, for the past twenty years was in town Thursday talking over old times with his many friends. He has just finished fixing the puncheons for the Charvet and Leo Justi wineries at Glen Ellen. Mr. B. tells us that Mr. Justi has a high quality of wine of the vintage of 1868. Well, just imagine wine of the Justi make of that age.

Glen Ellen makes the proud boast of having the champion grape picker of the state. Mrs. William Behler, in ten hours, picked three and a half tons of grapes. Her friends make the claim that no one, man or woman ever before picked that amount of grapes in ten hours. Mrs. Behler is the daughter of Louis Kunde.

There was a postponement of the case of Rose Happe vs. Antone Happe, which was to come up before the Superior court Monday. The many friends of both parties hope that their differences can be fixed between the two and there will be no further need to resort to the courts.

Engineer "Billy" Burns, recently running on the Sonoma Valley freight, has become a benedict. He was married in Oakland, Wednesday to Miss Nora Burgess of that city. The wedding took place at St. Patrick's church. Congratulations, Billy.

"A friend in need is a friend indeed," is an oft quoted saying and it fitted our case to a tee. We were in need of a good feed on ducks and a friend read our thoughts and presented us with a pair of mallards. Many thanks.

We are indebted to Mr. Chas. LaTorres for a fine box of muscat grapes. Thanks awfully. We might add that Mr. LaTorres has a large quantity of this fine variety of grapes for sale. Give him a call.

Rev. S. L. Lee and wife returned from a month's vacation, which they spent in Oregon. They report having a most enjoyable time.

At the Bismark a free employment agency has been opened. Here all kinds of help can be had free of charge.

Fred Lowell and the Misses Weber took an auto ride to the metropolis this week and enjoyed Portola.

Donald Campbell went to the metropolis Thursday, to visit the the Portola festival.

The man who could run a newspaper to suit everybody, went to heaven long ago.

Sam Woodworth was a visitor in Santa Rosa Wednesday.

J. H. Gwinn, of Petaluma, was in town Wednesday.

Card of Thanks

We hereby extend our sincere gratitude to the many kind friends who gave us their sympathy and aid during the illness and at the time of the death of our beloved daughter Elvora Alta Thierkoff and express our application for the many beautiful offerings.

MR. AND MRS. B. R. THIERKOFF.

Sues for Divorce

Mrs. Helen Geisselman, who left her husband some time since, brought suit for divorce in Santa Rosa Tuesday. The divorce is asked for on the grounds of cruelty and habitual intemperance. Mr. Geisselman is the proprietor of a resort near Agua Caliente Springs. Mrs. Geisselman is well known throughout the valley and has a host of friends.

Now An Officer

M. Topete was sworn in Wednesday as a special officer of the Pacific Humane Society of San Francisco, and is now clothed with authority to make arrests of any nature.

The above mentioned society is one of the strongest in the United States and is recognized by the government and the state of California. It backs its officers in all arrests and stands ready with a corps of six attorneys to come to their assistance should any controversy arise.

Mr. Topete has already made progress as an officer, having forced the owner of a horse to take the animal to a blacksmith and have the horse shod.

Mission Bell Program

The Landmarks Section of the Woman's Club is working hard to make a success of the unveiling of the Mission Bell Sign Post on Oct. 30th. It is earnestly desired that all our citizens will take a lively interest in this affair, and all are most cordially invited to be present at the ceremonies, which will take place in front of the old mission at 1:30 p. m. Following is the program:

Chorus, "Star Spangle Banner."

Remarks by Mrs. Dora Stolen, president of the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club.

"El Camino Real,"—Mrs. Laura Bride Powers.

Solo—Mrs. LuLu V. Emparum.

Address—Mrs. A. A. Goddard, State Chairman History and Landmarks.

Chant—Catholic choir.

Unveiling—Mrs. Carrie Burlin gamb.

Blessing by a Franciscan Father.

Presentation Speech—Mrs. J. B. Hume, President of the California Federation of Woman's Clubs.

Acceptance—Mrs. Robert P. Hill.

Song—America.

Raise More Funds

Following is the additional list of subscribers to the Mission Fund that was received this week:

Rudolph Speckles..... $50.00

Sonoma Parlor N. S. G. W. 25.00

Glen Ellen Parlor N. S. G. W. 5.00

Miss Minnie Cook..... 1.00

Miss Winkle..... 1.50

Lucille Hills..... 50

In connection with this list we wish to acknowledge as a gift from the Native Sons of Sonoma, the services of the orchestra on the evening of the mass meeting for the mission.

As there is now over $600 on the subscription list, the committee appointed by the Woman's Club, consisting of Mesdames Wagon, Clewe, Duhring, Stearns, Stolen, Woodworth, Burlingame, Messrs. Wagon and Duhring, are making valiant efforts to get ahead with the work of preservation and restoration. The great difficulty being in the scarcity of workmen. In has been decided to cover the older building with a good gable roof, built in such a manner that it will remain as permanent work when the final restoration is undertaken. It also proposed to rebuild permanently the front of the church, which fell out last winter.

C. T. Ryland of this place has kindly given his valuable services as architect in projecting these plans, and will also act as manager during the work of construction, for which the committee is duly grateful.

Mr. Liehtenberger, of Los Angeles Grand Second Vice president N. S. G. W., who was visiting our local lodge this week, took a lively interest in the work which is being done on the mission. He carried away a relic, consisting of a piece of old that taken from the roof, which he says he intends to place in the Native Son's museum in Los Angeles. B

THE FIRST LETTER A Woman Writes.

The first letter that a sick woman should write or have some one write for her is to Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., asking him if "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" is suitable for her case, and he will frankly tell her so. If he thinks it is, he may have to ask some questions before he can be sure just what the trouble is. If you are suffering from uterine disease, the symptoms of which are headache, backache, stiches, pain in various parts of the body, especially in the pelvic region, bearing-down, inflammation, ulceration, then Dr. Pierce will advise you to use his "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" for he has had a wonderful experience in the use of this remedy. It is not a patent medicine, but it is a VERITABLE PRESCRIPTION that became his "FAVORITE" when he was engaged in private practice forty years ago and found that it cured hundreds of all such cases that came under his care.

The doctor found scores and hundreds of women who were being improperly treated because their troubles were not understood, and he determined to place this remedy that he had used so successfully within reach of the multitudes who were in such sore need of it.

He made it efficient, agreeable to taste, and, best of all, safe for any woman, old or young, to use. It is neither a stimulant nor a narcotic, just a vegetable tonic, and invigorates the system, composed of native roots of remarkable medicinal virtue in the treatment of this class of diseases, and its record of cures entitles it to full confidence.

The one medicine for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, the ingredients of which are printed and placed upon every bottle having the great Laboratory in Buffalo, N. Y., where it is made, is called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It Stands Alone not only in respect to its ingredients being known, but also as the only specific advertised remedy for woman's diseases which absolutely contains no alcohol.

It Stands Alone as the one medicine for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, the ingredients of which are printed and placed upon every bottle having the great Laboratory in Buffalo, N. Y., where it is made, is called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Sending 31 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing and get a copy of the "Common Sense Medical Adviser," over 100 pages. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

These ORIGINAL Little Live Pills, first put up by Dr. R. V. Pierce over years ago, have been never equalled. They are made of purely vegetable, concentrated and refined medicinal principles, extracted from native American roots and plants. They speedily relieve and cure foul, torpid and deranged stomachs, bowels and liver, and attend to all the most distressful ailments. One or two a laxative, three or four a cathartic.

A Big Recording Fee

The Natomas Consolidated of California, has filed with County Recorder Nagle a voluminous deed of trust in favor of the Merchants Trust Company of San Francisco, creating a bonded indebtedness of $25,000,000. The concern has stone quarries in many counties of the state, including a large one at Sonoma. The filing of the deed cost $160 in fees.—Republican.

Cold Weather

To all is to beware of coughs and colds on the chest; as neglected they readily lead to pneumonia, consumption or other pulmonary troubles. Just as soon as the cough appears treat it with Ballard's Horehound Syrup the standard cure of America. Use as directed—perfectly harmless. A cure and preventive for all diseases of the lungs. Price 25c 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by L. S. Simmons.

TOUGH PAPER.

Not an Easy Feat to Twist a Bank Bill in Two.

"The paper that is used by the government in its currency is manufactured by a secret process and has characteristics with which the average man is not familiar," said a Minneapolis man.

"Recently I was in a small Minnesota town and witnessed an incident that demonstrated this. A well-to-do farmer living in the vicinity came into the bank to transact some business. In the course of the conversation the cashier began twisting a five dollar bill. The farmer watched him with interest and finally asked the man back of the counter if he wasn't afraid of tearing the bill.

"There is an easy way for you to earn money," said the cashier. 'Here is a thousand dollar bill and I will give it to you if you will twist it in two. You are simply to twist it and not tear it.'

"The farmer seemed dumfounded at first. He seemed awed at the thought of twisting a thousand dollar bill. Upon further assurance by the officer of the bank he timidly took the money and started twisting it in the middle. He tugged away for some time without being able to twist the bill in two. Finally he gave up, and he was certainly a surprised farmer. It is impossible to twist a bill in two, so firm and elastic is the paper used."—Ex change.

Hoarseness in a child subject to croup is a sure indication of the approach of the disease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given at once or even after the croupy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. Contains no poison. Sold by all druggists.

Hoarseness Evidence.

"See here, Jocky, I'm surprised to find you writing such bitter, cynical things about married life."

"Well—er—Deneadict, you see, the fact is—er—"

"Oh, don't apologize. It isn't that. What surprises me is how, not being married, you know all these things."—Boston Transcript.

Never Worry

About a cough—there's no need of worry if you will treat it at its first appearance with Ballard's Horehound Syrup. It will stop the cough at once and put your lungs and throat back into perfectly healthy condition. Sold by L. S. Simmons.

The Ducking Stool in England.

The latest recorded use of the ducking stool in England (the designations, ducking and ducking were, of course, synonymous in the days of Queen Elizabeth) was in 1820. It was at Leominster, when a woman named Jenny Pipes, alias Jane Corran, was paraded through the town on the ducking stool and ducked in the water near Kenway bridge by order of the magistrates. In 1817 another woman, called Sarah Leake, was wheeled round the place in the same chair, but not ducked, as, fortunately for her, the water was too low. The instrument of punishment in question has not been used since then.—London Notes and Queries.

A Different Bill.

Bill Jones, a western merchant, went to Kansas City to buy goods. Some of these he shipped home ahead of his own arrival and nearly frightened his wife out of her wits. The neighbors heard her shriek and, assuming to her rescue, found her frantically endeavoring to remove the cover of a big box, all because the box bore the legend, "Bill Inside."

Slightly Colder with Snow

When you see that kind of a weather forecast you know that rheumatism weather is at hand. Get ready for it now by getting a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment. Finest thing made for rheumatism, chilblains, frostbite, sore and stiff joints and muscles, all aches and pains. 25c 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Sold by L. S. Simmons.

As Usual.

Friend—You took your son into your establishment some months ago to teach him the business, I understand. How did it turn out?—Business Man (wearily)—Great success. He's teaching me now.—Chicago Journal.

A man is never so on trial as in the moment of excessive good fortune.—Wallace.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has become famous for its cures of coughs, colds, croup and influenza. Try it when in need. It contains no harmful substance and always gives prompt relief. Sold by all dealers.

The Cravat.

The cravat was once the name of a great military nation, the Croats, or Cravates, of the Balkans. It was their fashion to wrap large shawls or pieces of cloth around their necks and shoulders. About the middle of the reign of Louis XIV. he uniformed several regiments in the Croat fashion, with huge shawls about their necks. The fashion took, and the shawl diminished in size to the slight strip of cloth we still have with us.

$100 Reward

Would gladly be paid for a cure by many people who are crippled with rheumatism, yet if they only knew it, they can be cured by a few bottles of Ballard's Snow Liniment, and the price is only 25c, 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Sold by L. S. Simmons.

THE MOONSTROKE.

A Sailor's Experience After a Night Nap on Deck in the Tropics.

"People laugh at moonstrokes," said a sailor. "They call them shellbacks' superstition. I once had a moonstroke, though, and I tell you it was no laughing matter."

"In a full moon one night in the tropics I fell asleep on deck. The moon shone directly on me. I lay in a white pool of moonlight. So three hours went by."

"Then, when they woke me, I felt like a man in a dream. My mouth hung open, as it does when I sleep, and I couldn't close it, and my head lay over on the side, and I couldn't straighten it up."

"Nor could I understand what people said to me, nor could I obey orders. Voices I'd hear far away, but they seemed meaningless, unpleasant, was very drowsy. All I wanted was sleep."

"They worked on me for two days, rubbing me down with cold water and dousing me with castor oil, before they brought me round. And always after that I have been careful never to sleep, where the moon's rays could get at me. My moonstroke happened eight years ago, but still at every full moon I am stupid and drowsy, my head droops a little to one side, and my mouth tends to hang open."

"There's many a sailor has been moonstruck, but this accident never befalls landmen. Landmen, you see, never sleep out of doors."—New York Herald.

ORIGINAL NEW ENGLAND.

It is Said That It Was Located on the Pacific.

There is a common saying that if the pilgrim fathers had only landed on the Pacific coast a large portion of the Atlantic seaboard would never have been settled. Californians, Oregonians and Washingtonians believe this implicitly. In other words, the charms of the Pacific coast in the way of climate are so appreciated that, having once experienced them, men are unwilling to live elsewhere contentedly. Now, not one man in a thousand living on the Pacific coast knows that as a matter of fact the accents of our mother tongue were heard on the beach not far from San Francisco forty-one years before English was spoken on Plymouth rock.

More amusing still is the fact that the original New England was on the Pacific coast, for Sir Francis Drake in 1579, at the close of a month's stay, took possession of the country for his sovereign, Elizabeth, and named the new acquisition Nouva Albion (New England) because he thought the white cliff near what is now Point Reyes resembled the chalk cliffs near Dover.—Alexander McAdie in Outlook Magazine.
